PAVING PROJECTS HINGE ON SANCTION OF COUNTY PLANS

Concrete Laying On Highway Awaits Approval Of Specifications To Be Sent To Austin—Work South Of Town Progresses Swiftly—Bridges To Be Redecked In Near Future.

Government representatives have inspected the plans for paving the Colorado-to-Gulf highway east and west of Vernon and have indicated that several changes will have to be effected, according to advice issued this morning from the office of the county judge. These alterations will be completed as soon as possible, and the plans forwarded to Austin for approval.

When this latter action has been consummated, the specifications will be sent to Fort Worth, and upon their approval there, will be returned to the local office. The commissioners' court will then advertise for bids on the enterprise. The area which will be surfaced under the first contract will extend from Vernon west to Condon Springs, and east two or three miles past the end of the pavement extending toward Oklaunion.

Is Slow Work
"It is slow work," is the comment of E. L. McHugh, county judge. "There are so many interests to take into consideration and so many different people to figure with, that we are unable to state definitely when work may start."

Meanwhile workmen are progressing excellently with their task of laying pavement south of Vernon. More than 1,000 feet of concrete have been poured with Paradise creek as a starting place, and 308 feet were run on Wednesday alone.

Two thousand feet of surfacing have already been laid between the Pease River bridge and the Denver railroad tracks.

Most of the material for redecking the two Pease river bridges is on hand. This work may commence within a few days.

New Tractor Bought

A new ten ton caterpillar tractor has been purchased by the county for road work, and has been assigned to the Harrold precinct for the present. Its cost was between $400 and $500. Ten ton Holt tractors are kept continually in operation by Commissioners J. S. Archer and O. A. McCaleb.

County commissioners have spent between $7,000 to $15,000 each on main and rural roads since the issue of county bonds. The allotment to each was $50,000. Several miles of road have been cleared in the western portion of the county.

"We are not trying to see how fast we can spend our money," is the comment of the county judge, "but rather, how economically we can handle it. We don't care for a situation to exist in which the people will wake up some day and ask 'Where are our roads?'"

"I feel that work done thus far is of the first class and in general is economical. We have given many local people work. However, we cannot progress with any of these projects any faster than economy dictates."

PARENT-TEACHERS TO STAGE
PAGEANT COMMUNITY WEEK

The children of the city schools will stage a pageant for Parent-Teachers' night July 13 at Allingham park under the directorship of Mrs. Paul Goetze. Mrs. Goetze asks that the children of the schools meet promptly at 9 o'clock, Wednesday morning, July 5, at the Baptist auditorium when parts will be assigned. This is one of the series of entertainment that will be given under the auspices of Wilbarger Federation of Clubs Community work which begins July 10 and continues through July 14.

Rev. L. J. Mims Will Preach Here Sunday

Rev. L. J. Mims of Brownwood, who has accepted the call to the pastorate of the Vernon Baptist church, will arrive in the city tomorrow and on Sunday will occupy the pulpit at the church both morning and evening. Members of the congregation are especially anxious to have the new pastor take up the work since the church has been without a pastor for several months. The members also feel that they are especially fortunate in procuring such an able man as Dr. Mims. The citizens of Vernon will join with the Baptist congregation in extending a most cordial welcome to the new pastor.

TESTS MAY PROVIDE SUFFICIENT GAS TO MEET LOCAL NEEDS

Heinzerling Oil Corporation Operations South Of Town Aimed Primarily At Sand Expected Near 1,400 Feet—Well Spudded In Last Night—Operator Confident Of Results.

In the event that expectations of W. H. Heinzerling and associates materialize, Vernon in a few months will be provided with natural gas in sufficient quantities to supply the wants of consumers for years to come. It will be provided from the well which was spudded in last night on Block 14, section 80 south of town and about two and one-half miles northeast of Sigler number 1.

The hopes of the operators are not based on conjecture, but on results experienced in the Castlebury well 2,200 feet distant. The Heinzerling test is on the same structure which has been given an excellent recommendation by authoritative geologists.

Has Contract To Furnish

The first gas sand is expected at 1,100 feet, and the main strata at 1,378 feet, according to computations made from the log of the Castlebury well. Mr. Heinzerling has made a contract to pipe gas into Vernon. He declined to give the name of the individual figuring in the deal, but intimated that he is well-known locally. The log of the Castlebury well showed at least seven oil bearing sands, it is said.

"Vernon, including commercial consumers as well as those in the residence districts, cannot consume over one million feet of gas a day," Mr. Heinzerling told a representative of The Record. "I feel certain that the community cannot begin to use all of the gas which I am confident I can supply."

The test is being drilled with a standard rig. Mr. Heinzerling possesses eight years experience as an oil operator, most of them having been spent in Wyoming fields.

BOWERS WINS FROM BURK LAD

Local Lightweight Knocks Out Opponent in Fourth Round Of Battle

Dick Bowers, local lightweight who has been meeting with phenomenal success in the ring, added another victory to his long string Tuesday night when he knocked out Kid Peavine of Burk Burnett in the fourth round of their bout at the Liberty Winter garden in Burk Burnett. The fight was a semi-windup to the Curley Smith-Kid Gleason affair.

Bowers weighed in at 128 pounds, and Peavine tipped the beam at 139. Both fighters were in the best of condition. The first round went to Bowers, but his opponent came back strong and won honors in the second. In the third Bowers planted his glove on Peavine's chin with such force that the latter took the count of five. Shortly after the fourth round opened the local lightweight bored in with such ferocity that his opponent in a few seconds lay helpless on the canvas.

Bowers will fight July 4 at Childress. He will meet Jess Porter, considered one of the best lightweights in this section of the State.

RAISES BETTER THAN THIRTY-
ONE BUSHELS TO THE ACRE

Better than thirty-one bushels to the acre on a total of 120 acres is the wheat raising achievement of Ernest Karcher, Wilbarger county farmer who is a tenant on the C. T. Smith place, six miles northeast of Vernon. The yield obtained by Mr. Karcher has attracted considerable notice throughout this section.

"More than thirty bushels to the acre on the Smith place were produced last year by Otto Klesnick, now farming on an independent basis. Mr. Karcher planted Kanred wheat, and half of his production was sold to the local Kell Milling Company to be distributed over the county as seed."

Display Room For Studebakers

Space in the W. O. Anderson building between Brown's Grocery and the Mads tire shop, is being equipped by Harry E. Hearne, local Studebaker dealer, for a display room. Mr. Hearne has the agency for the district embracing Vernon, and has been in this city about three weeks. He handles all models of Studebaker cars.

FIRST PICTURES OF ILLINOIS MINE MASSACRE.

Preparing for the battle.

This photograph was taken only a few hours before a mob of 5,000 striking miners, attacked, captured and murdered the guards and strike breakers at the Southeastern Coal Company's mine at Herrin, Ill. Superintendent McDowell (shown by arrow) is seen directing the posting of the mine guards, who were overpowered and slain when they tried to hold the mob off. McDowell himself was the first man murdered after the surrender. He was a cripple and when told to run could not do so and was shot down. Only a few hours before he had wired to President William J. Lester, in Chicago, "My God! Send the troops! We can't hold the mob off any longer!"

FARRELL CHECKED IN AS POSTMASTER

TAKES CHARGE OF OFFICE AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS
TODAY.

Tomorrow morning when you come down town and meet C. J. Farrell it will be in perfect good taste to greet him as "Postmaster" Farrell, for the Harding appointee is being checked in to office this afternoon as J. V. Townsend, who resigned April 1st, is being checked out. The change, which was authorized by the Postal department for today, is being made without the formality of an overseeing inspector or government representative other than the two men concerned. The procedure consists merely of taking an inventory of the stock on hand and the receipting for same by Mr. Farrell. At the close of business today Mr. Farrell becomes postmaster at Vernon.

The change coming today, which is the last day of the government fiscal year, is especially convenient for both the incoming and retiring officials. There will be no fractional monthly or quarterly reports to be made. Under the rules of the department the postmaster is required to make report each month and at the end of the quarter groups the monthly reports into a quarterly and the same is true with reference to the quarterly reports at the end of the year, so when Mr. Townsend completes his routine work tonight he will have finished his work in the Vernon postoffice and Mr. Farrell starts out on a new month, a new quarter and a new year.

When Mr. Townsend accepted the management of the chamber of commerce he became very anxious to be relieved as postmaster in order that his attention could be given solely to the work of community building. With this end in view he offered his resignation as postmaster. He is therefore greatly pleased at being relieved. It is fitting that we should say that J. V. Townsend has served Vernon well as postmaster, striving at all times to make this service what it should be from one holding that office. He has been tireless in his efforts to improve the mail service and has succeeded in that undertaking to a marked degree. The town and county is especially fortunate in having a man like C. J. Farrell succeed Mr. Townsend for he is thoroughly familiar with the work in the office, having served in the capacity of postmaster for more than sixteen years. Much credit is due to Mr. Farrell for having laid the foundations for the splendid mail service now enjoyed in both city and county. It is not necessary for him to make promises of the most efficient service for the people of Vernon know he has their interests at heart and will serve them well.

Called To Lockhart By Wife's Illness

QUIET OBSERVANCE OF FOURTH HERE

CITIZENSHIP DAY PROGRAM TO PROVIDE ONLY TELE-
BRATION.

The Fourth of July in Wilbarger county this year will witness no extravagant observance. No parade will be staged, and as nearly as can be ascertained, there will be no demonstration at the fairgrounds as was the case last year.

Local banks and the postoffice will close, and a majority of the local business houses will shut their doors as well. A petition circulated among Vernon merchants Thursday calling for an observance of the holiday met with ready signers.

The local chapter of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will have charge of the program for Citizenship Day, to be observed Tuesday on the court house lawn. The observance of this occasion last year at the fairgrounds west of town was the first in the history of the county, and met with general favor.

Program At 8 o'clock

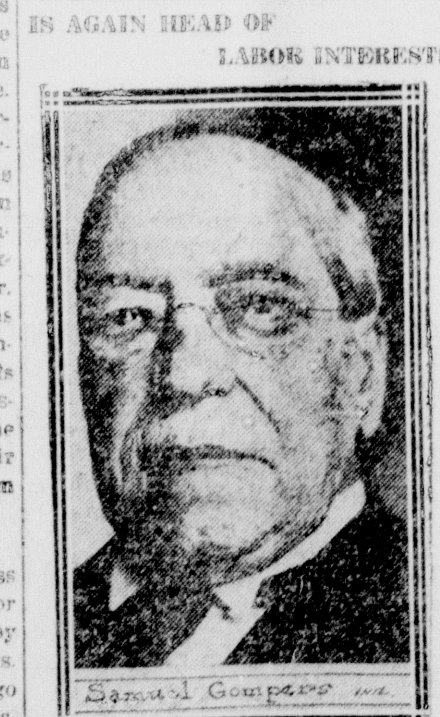

The program will open promptly at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Rena Watts, president of the W. C. T. U., serving as chairman. Local talent will furnish the entertainment for the occasion, and Professor Paul Goetze's band will aid in enlivening the affair.

Community singing will also find a place on the program. Candidates for both district and county offices have been invited to speak, and a general solicitation is extended the public to attend the celebration.

Wichita Couple Married Here

J. A. Bishop of Wichita Falls and Mrs. A. O. Cantrell of San Antonio were married Wednesday at 1 o'clock by E. L. McHugh, county judge at his office in the court house. The couple motored to Vernon from Wichita Falls and returned immediately after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Bishop will make their home in Wichita Falls.

IS AGAIN HEAD OF LABOR INTERESTS

Samuel Gomper, president of the American Federation of Labor, who was recently elected to his forty-second term as head of the organization. Mr. Gomper had no serious opposition in attaining office again, although promise was given early that the election might be spirited.

TOURIST CAMPING GROUNDS ASSURED

SHADY NOOK AT THE FAIR
PARK TO BE MADE INVITING.

The Vernon Rotary club joined by the Chamber of Commerce will provide ample camping grounds at the city's edge for automobile tourists who pass this way during the summer months. This was definitely decided upon at a joint meeting of special committees from the two organizations on Wednesday afternoon. That shady nook embracing an acre or more of ground at the fair park will be converted into a comfortable resort for travelers who wish to stop over night or take lunch in Vernon. The plans call for the installation of adequate furnaces, water and lights. The water privileges will include showers for the road weary travelers.

Under the arrangement made by the joint committee the city will provide water for the camping grounds free of charge, the Texas Public Service Company will likewise provide the lights free of cost to the committee and the Vernon Electric company has kindly consented to do the needed wiring free of cost. Brick furnaces will be constructed in convenient places to accommodate a number of parties and trash cans will be installed to take care of the garbage in order to make the "tourist camp" thoroughly sanitary and attractive at all times.

Certain regulations with reference to the use of the grounds will be enforced. For one thing the grounds will be open only to automobile tourists. This is essential from a sanitary viewpoint. Then good order must be maintained for the grounds will be under police regulations just the same as any other portion of the city.

Vernon is favorably situated with reference to tourists stopping over here for the night and some few of the thousands who have passed this way have seen fit to criticize the town because adequate camping grounds were not provided, but this criticism will be turned into praise when the committee in charge has finished its work, and as a result the "stop over" tourists will be greatly increased. With such a lovely and inviting camp site as Vernon will then afford many of the road weary travelers may be induced to tarry with us.

Throckmorton Candidate Here

Arthur H. King, who is making the race for the state senate, was here Wednesday from Throckmorton and called on The Record. Mr. King is pleased to call himself a rancher and business man and deplores the fact that there are not more business men in the senate at present. On the literature he was distributing he points out that there are now twenty-one lawyers in the upper house, one farmer, and nine representing other professions. Mr. King says he is finding it a little difficult to make the rounds of the forty-nine counties in the 23rd district and is an earnest advocate of re-districting law. He says the 29th district represents enough people for three senatorial districts and that it will be so divided when the re-districting law becomes effective.

Ice Cream Super At Rayland Saturday Night

ROAR OF LIONS TO BE HEARD TONIGHT IN ANNUAL BANQUET

District Governor Booth Will Present Vernon Lions Club With Charter And Delegates From Wichita Falls Club Will Be Entertained With Pleasing Program.

The presentation of a charter to the Vernon Lions Club by District Governor Booth of Beaumont and the entertainment of a visiting delegation from the Wichita Falls club will be featured in a banquet and ladies night program at Vernon Hotel tonight at 8 o'clock by the local Lions club. It is the first visit of the district governor to the Vernon club and local Lions will roar in his honor.

Throughout the week the local committee has been busy making plans and arranging a program that will impress the district governor with the fact that the Vernon club is a live and going concern, and it is safe to say that there will be something doing in a stunt way when the chief of the jungles has finished his roaring. The local roars will find a counter attraction to their pre-arranged program for it is understood that the Wichita Falls delegation is composed of a bunch of "live ones" and are planning to provide some of the amusement. In fact old Niagara, itself, won't have anything on Vernon tonight in so far as roaring goes when the big lions, the little lions and the lionesses gather about the festal board to make merry in celebration of the club's anniversary and to receive the local club charter.

The banquet is scheduled for 8 o'clock when it is expected that each and every Lion and Lioness will be in attendance to receive and do honor to the district governor, who has come to present the club charter. Dr. M. J. Moore, president of the local club, will accept the charter in behalf of the membership. In addition to an address by the district governor the program will include talks by representatives of the Wichita Falls club and local orators.

Extensive arrangements have been made by the Wichita Falls membership for the visit to Vernon this afternoon, according to Dr. L. D. Barnell, president of that club. The party will be assembled at the Kemp Hotel drug store and travel in a body overland to Vernon reaching here about 7 o'clock. Cars have been provided to bring as many of the members of the Wichita Falls club as can come. The State Lions' department is looking to Vernon and Wichita Falls for bigger things, it was declared by local Lions in discussing the coming meeting. Notice to the effect that the local club will be expected to act with Wichita Falls in the organization of new clubs in the surrounding towns has been received.

Magnin's Company cotton exchange will open in Vernon tomorrow, July 1, and furnish continuous quotations on cotton, grain and cotton oil products. "READY-EXERCISE" IS ORDER HEARD AT GIRLS' ENCAMPMENT

Lasses From County Rural Communities Enjoy Outing In Allingham Park—Program Planned Cares For Every Hour—Stunts To Be Staged Tonight Following Dinner Reception.

Seventy bright, red checked maidens, ranging in age from little tots of 8 years to lasses in their teens, were earnestly striving to emulate the movements indicated by R. T. Lutz, physical director, when a Record representative called at the county girls' encampment in Allingham Park about 11 o'clock this morning. Up and down to the front and to the side went dozens of arms, and suddenly they appeared to follow the pattern of a windmill as their owners strove desperately to follow their leader.

There was a final surge and fall of arms, and a sudden command to dismount. Cheers, somewhat hampered by frantic pants for breath, interfered materially with the volume of the demonstration denoting the relief of the campers over ceasing their exercise.

Dinner Hour Welcome

A pep meeting was the only intervening factor before dinner was announced, and then the girls lined up with utensils in hand to be served army fashion. Capt'n Tony, Ethiopian cook of huge proportions, presided over the serving table and dealt out liberal portions of the varied menu provided.

At 5:30 this morning the girls were up, and at 6 o'clock in an early morning sing-song. A half hour later they were addressed by Dr. E. L. Moore, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who spoke on the Shunammite woman of the Bible, speaking of her as a farm-home woman. The minister spoke inspiringly on greatness and what it consists of in life of a girl or woman.

Attended Sewing Classes

At 7:30 breakfast was served, and an hour later Miss Bess Edwards, district home demonstration agent, conducted classes in embroidering emblems for uniform caps. This work she carried out later in the morning as well. The emblem is worked in blue, is square in shape, and carries the letter H in each corner. In the center in a four leaf clover. The four H's Miss Edwards explains as follows: "We train the head, the hands, the heart and the health." The four leaf clover, it is believed will bring good luck in canning work.

"Which would you rather do, play or work?" was asked one little lass as she laboriously plied needle and thread.

"Why play, of course," was the prompt reply, "but they tell us this is good for us and I 'pose it is," she added as an afterthought.

Take Ride Over City

The girls retired in their three tent hotels at a late hour last night after attending the Pictorial theatre as the guests of Hugh Greever, owner. This afternoon from 1 until 1:30 they enjoyed a "quiet hour," and at 2 o'clock were regaled with stories told them by Miss Faye Hogsett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hogsett.

At 2:30 boy scouts of the town served as guides in a sightseeing tour over the city. Automobiles for the purpose were loaned by women belonging to the County Federation of Clubs. Those having the encampment in charge are lavish with their praises of the services rendered by the scouts who have been in constant attendance since the affair started yesterday afternoon.

Are Hostesses Tonight

During the sightseeing trip the girls will mount to the top of the court house dome and view the city. Hill Crest Country Club will be the last point visited on the ride.

At dinner tonight the girls will be hostesses to town and county officials, and to the staffs of both local newspapers. Following the meal there will be a "stunt" party.

Tomorrow there will be additional classes and a swim in Moore's pool east of town. At 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the camp will be broken until next year.

Good Things To Eat

Menus for the encampment are as follows:

The following menu will be served to the girls and their guests during the encampment:

Thursday night, supper, 6:30—

ALL IS WELL—Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.—John 14:1, 2.

GOD CARES FOR HIS OWN—And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.—Malachi 3:17.

GOD WILL GUIDE THEE—Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding; whose mouth must be held in with bit and bridle. I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go.—Psalm 32:9, 8.

MISS CHAPMAN WEDS WICHITA LAWYER

CEREMONY PERFORMED HERE WEDNESDAY AT HOME OF BRIDE'S MOTHER.

In the presence of only immediate members of the families of the principals, Bynum L. Morgan of Wichita Falls and Miss Bess Chapman of this city were married Wednesday morning at 11:30 at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. A. Chapman of southwest Vernon. Rev. C. A. Waterfield, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony. There were no attendants. The father of Mr. Morgan and two sisters, Misses Johnnie and Wilmer Morgan of Wichita Falls were out-of-town guests.

The bride was attired in a going away gown of navy blue with accessories to match. Soon after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Morgan departed for Dallas and will start today on a leisurely tour through Colorado by automobile. They will be at home after their return in Wichita Falls, where both have resided for some time.

Captain Wiley reached the front eight days after landing, and served through the strenuous campaigns including the St. Mihiel and the Argonne.

AT THE VERNON THEATRE

Monday and Tuesday, Douglas Fairbanks in "The Three Musketeers." The film version of "The Three Musketeers" is based not only upon the famous novel of Alexander Dumas, but also upon the memoirs of D'Artagnan himself. In fact, much of the material upon which the "business" of the photoplay is built, much that gives it the human touch, was found in D'Artagnan's memoirs and not in the novel, although it was from the Dumas story that the foundation for the picture plot was obtained.

There are many reasons which give authority to the bid for everything fame made on behalf of this photoplay. First of all, the Dumas novel and the memoirs of D'Artagnan embody the greatest wealth of filmable material ever recovered. Only the imagination of a Dumas could devise the amazing experiences participated in by those four inseparable comrades, D'Artagnan and the Three Musketeers, Athos, Porthos and Aramis. And the part of the dashing D'Artagnan is made to order for the indomitable Doug.

Add to this fact that the adaptation, costuming and required research were under the supervision of Edward "Kismet," "Tiger," "Finger," "My Lady's Dress" and "Shulamite;" and the direction was in the hands of Fred Niblo, himself a born adventurer, and a man who has achieved fame in the direction of adventure stories. In guiding the directorial destinies of Douglas Fairbanks' "The Mark of Zorro," Niblo established for himself a firm place on the ladder of fame, which is reinforced by his handling of this Fairbank's offering.

FINAL CHAPTER IN LIFE CAPT. BURK BURNETT WRITTEN

Pioneer Cattleman And One Of The Founders Of The Lower Plains Country Passes Away At His Home In Fort Worth Following Long Illness. Buried On Wednesday.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 29.—The final chapter was written in the life of Capt. S. B. Burnett, Texas pioneer and capitalist, Wednesday afternoon when his body was buried in East Oakwood near that of his son, Burk Jr., who died several years ago. Captain Burnett died Tuesday morning at 1:50 o'clock after an illness of several months. The funeral service was held at the First Christian Church of which the deceased was a member.

During Wednesday until the funeral the body lay in state in the casket at the family home on Summit Avenue. Around it was banded wreath after wreath of flowers of every hue. The casket stood at one corner of a room adjoining the reception hall. With the exception of the upper portion, the casket was almost hidden with flowers, and against it stood the crowning touch.

Famous Brand In Flowers.
The brand made famous by Captain Burnett, "6666," had been woven with flowers, enclosed in a rectangular square. It rested on the floor and leaned against the casket. To either side were more wreaths, and entering the reception room from the front was an embankment of blooms of every description.

Over the whole shaded lights cast a red glow that lent an air of an exotic garden.

Many Attend Funeral.
Hundreds of friends gathered for the funeral services, many of whom had come hundreds of miles. Some were young, but many were old, especially of the men. They had known Captain Burnett in life, some since his very youth.

Among the latter was the former Adjutant General of Oklahoma, Frank Canton, who went down the cattle trail with Captain Burnett in 1893 when they were both boys. Canton's home is in Oklahoma City. Among the others were the cowboys from Burnett ranches, led by Sid Williams and Bud Arnett, from the "four sixes," and Dickson ranches.

Carved Fortune In West.
A pioneer resident of Texas, Captain Burk Burnett carved his fortune from the "wild and woolly west." Literally speaking.

Born in Bates county, Missouri, in 1849, the son of Jeremiah and Nancy Burnett, natives of Virginia, Burnett was brought by his parents to Texas when still a youth. They settled in Denton county when S. Burk Burnett was but eight years old. He attended the local schools of Denton.

In that decade the cattle industry was occupying the commercial life of Texas and it was to this channel that young Burnett's business attention was turned. No sooner had he engaged in it than he realized the necessity for improvement in the breed of stock. He purchased and imported the first pure bred bull to be brought into Denton county and began at that early date his operations which have in recent years brought him fame.

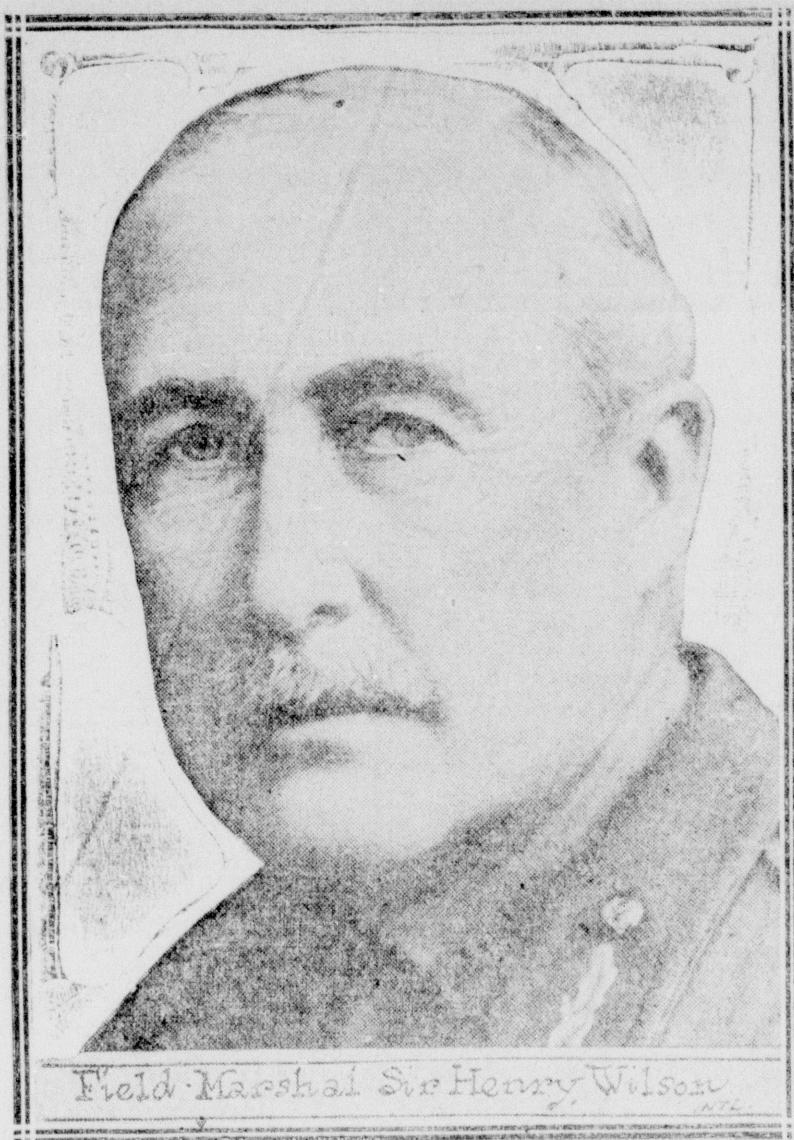

In 1875 Captain Burnett drove his herds from Denton to Wichita county and developed his previous holdings to a total of 30,000 acres. His sense of justice enabled him to make a strong friendship with the Indians, of whom there were many in Texas, and although they were at enmity with the white men, they turned for advice and counsel to Captain Burnett. He was a personal friend of the chiefs of several tribes and on numerous occasions was tendered signal honors when he visited the respective Indian reservations.

Bought 6666 Ranch.
Perceiving the wasted misuse of Indian lands, Captain Burnett obtained a lease of 40,000 acres to be used for grazing purposes. This laid the foundation for the immense fortune of the man at the time of his death. In 1900 he purchased the famous 6666 ranch in King county, which now includes more than 200,000 acres. Besides this he possessed the Dixon creek ranch in Carson county, containing more than 100,000 acres.

The oil town of Burkburnett was named after the cattleman-capitalist. When the name was bestowed upon the site, it was something more than a small camp, but with the discovery of oil it swelled into a prosperous community and retained the name of the founder.

While the cattle and land holdings of Captain Burnett are extensive, so are his oil interests. His land was among the first to reveal the presence of the golden fluid and with the developments of the oil industry in Texas,

FIELD MARSHAL'S MURDER STIRS BRITAIN

Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson

Britain was stirred as it had not been in recent years by the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, former Chief of Staff of the British army, shot down in front of his London home by two men. It was reported Irish extremists were responsible, as Sir Henry had been in favor of a "mild list" in handling the Irish situation.

Captain Burnett's wealth increased. The deceased was one of the founders of the cattle raisers' association of Texas and for years was treasurer of that organization.

This, in turn, places an obligation upon the bank itself—that of cheerful and helpful service offered freely at all times to its customers.

And that is the attitude this bank takes—to help the ambitious business man in the safe conduct of his business affairs. Call and ask us to explain this more in detail. CAPT. S. BURK BURNETT

In the death of Capt. S. Burk Burnett, who passed away at his home in Fort Worth early Tuesday morning, all Texas and the entire south-west sustained a distinct loss and more especially did the lower plains country suffer a loss for it was here that Captain Burnett put in the best efforts of his life to help pave the way for the splendid civilization that is now enjoyed. His death marks the passing of a friend and comrade of the pioneer cowboy of the whole southwest and one of the founders of the cattle business in this region. And it marks the passing of a much loved friend of the younger generations and a man who led a very active and useful life, one who did things even after he was bedridden. Old time Vernon citizens mourn his death as they would that of a loved one and extend tenderest sympathy to the bereaved family.

While his death has been expected at any time for months, due to a prolonged illness, it came as a distinct shock to the entire community of which he was a recognized leader. Perhaps only one other was more closely associated with the development of West Texas, Capt. Burnett and W. T. Waggoner, as boys, settled in this lower panhandle region and saw it develop from a wilderness to a vast empire that ranks with the very best sections of the United States. That strip of country between Vernon and Wichita Falls owes its very existence to the cattle industry and to the founders of that industry. It was men like Capt. Burnett who braved the hardships necessary to found the great industry that has made northwest Texas famous.

That he was loved and honored in other sections of the state is evidenced by the following from the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, which fittingly pictures the character of this beloved citizen:

"Capt. Burnett was one of the pioneers of this section and one of the founders of the cattle business in the Southwest. He came to this section as a child with his father, and all his life has been lived in this section of Texas and in the cattle business. The country around Fort Worth and to the West was a wilderness when Captain Burnett was a young man who converted the ranges from open prairies, the home of the Indian and the Buffalo, to productive acres upon which the fine cattle were produced for market and thus made the wilderness yield wealth for civilized man and paved the way for the coming of the 'settlements' were the pioneers of civilization in this section of the world. And Captain Burnett was one of the chief laborers in this great work of progress. With nothing to start on, and practically hand-reared, he laid the foundations, not only of a fortune for himself, but for the modern civilization we know and enjoy today.

"The city of Fort Worth, whatever may have been the factors in its later growth, owes its very existence to the cattle industry, and the cattle industry owes its origin and development to the pioneers who faced the primitive conditions of the frontier in planting it on the prairies and who worked to improve the standards of the stock produced. In both of these respects Captain Burnett was a founder of the cattle business and in consequence one of the early builders of Fort Worth.

"Captain Burnett belonged to a hardy race that is passing away. He leaves behind to mourn him few of the oldtimers who shared the hardships and the labor of the early days. But he leaves a new generation in debt to him and to his fellows of that time, and a heritage of heroic tradition which is part of the very life of the communities that now deck the prairies. It is as a pioneer and builder of civilization that the memory of Captain Burnett will become part of the sacred tradition of the Southwest."

That cordial hospitality that is always in evidence in Vernon makes the visitor feel that the spirit of youth is in the air and that the old and young alike feel its thrills. The harmonious environments prove unusually attractive.

The good influence of scouting will prove a wonderful tonic for the boys and this juvenile organization should by all means have the hearty endorsement of the grown ups.

When the "buy-it-made-in-Wilbarger" doctrine becomes deeply seated in the hearts and minds of the people, numerous little industries will begin to spring up and Vernon and Wilbarger county will prosper as never before.

With a crop that is estimated around 50 per cent normal the lower panhandle country is busy with threshers to complete the harvest of a splendid grain crop. This section of the country will get its share of the estimated 12,000,000 bushels crop, which at $1.00 a bushel isn't half bad.

Childress is going forward with plans for an enlarged Childress State Fair. The amusement program has already been arranged and includes horse racing and radio features. A county or district fair is always attractive and Childress is making the most of this opportunity to advertise that district.

If the plans of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce are carried out an interstate fair will be held at the oil metropolis this fall that will attract crowds from our neighboring states as well as all Texas. The towns of Electra and Burkburnett have promised their hearty co-operation in the undertaking, which means that Wichita Falls will have very able allies.

Now that the people in the east are turning their eyes towards Texas and more especially that portion in the northwest, where grain vies with cotton for supremacy as the community's chief asset, Vernon should make the most of this splendid opportunity for advertising Wilbarger county resources. There is room here for thousands of industrious farmers who may become absolutely independent off the products of this fertile soil.

Open Column

You will recall that I ran an ad in your valuable paper a short while ago telling the anglers of this vicinity that I was opening up a night school to teach the boys the "Higher Art" in fishing and this is to put them on notice that the said school is forever closed.

I still claim that I can catch a few fish, but when it comes to departing this valuable art to others, I am a miserable failure, to illustrate; I took a prominent young attorney of this city as one of my pupils and another prominent lawyer from an adjoining state over to the Club lake, but when in a boat and started them out to the favorite haunts of the BIG BOYS and in a very short while they spied a pair in juxtaposition (which means hard by).

Our Vernon lawyer whispered and said, let me try him. He laid out the red bibs, Royal Coachman, brown hackle and others but nothing "diddling." Our "fotch on" attorney, said let me at him and he chunked all the tempting lures he could find in Oklahoma at the said BIG BOY, but NAY Pauline, not a rise. They had occasion to move the boat and behold the fish were following them and upon investigation they found they were chained to the boat.

It is needless to say who chained them to the boat, but when 12 star pupils pull off a stunt like that in the presence of visitors, it's time to take out, don't you think?

STORIES OF GREAT INDIANS

By Elmo Scott Watson

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.
SHABBONA, A POTTAWATOMIE;
"WHITE MAN'S FRIEND"

MANY Indians have shunned the name of "white man's friend" but to one it was a proud title. Shabbona, chief of the Pottawatomies, curiously enough, was neither a chief nor a member of that tribe by birth. He was an Ottawa, nephew of the great Pontiac. Having married a Pottawatomie woman, he was adopted into the tribe, given the name of Shabbona, "Built Like a Bear," and eventually was made peace chief.

Shabbona's first service to the whites occurred on the day of the Fort Dearborn massacre when he and Chief Sagoyewew saved John Kinzie, the trader, and his family from the blood-thirsty Pottawatomie warriors. During the Winnebago war of 1827 he won first the title of "the white man's friend" by persuading his people not to join the Winnebagoes on the warpath.

But it was during the Black Hawk war that the Pottawatomie chieftain proved himself the white man's friend indeed. In February, 1832, Black Hawk attempted to form a confederation of the Sac and Foxes, Pottawatomies and Winnebagoes to fight the whites. White Cloud, the Winnebago chief, favored the union and declared that "if all the tribes will join us our warriors will be like the trees of the forest." "Yes," replied Shabbona, "But the soldiers of the whites will outnumber the leaves on the trees." The Pottawatomies did not join.

Shabbona was not content with holding his own warriors quiet. After Stillman's defeat had left the whole northern frontier of Illinois unprotected, he set out to warn the whites that the hostiles were coming. A few farmers persisted in staying and a second time the chief, facing death at the hands of Black Hawk's warriors, carried the alarm. The settlers who refused to heed this warning died in the dreadful massacre on Indian creek.

Shabbona served General Atkinson faithfully and well as a scout during the remainder of the campaign and for once in history a friendly Indian was rewarded by the whites. The government excepted Shabbona and his family from the order removing all the Pottawatomies to a reservation in Kansas and gave him a pension. But land speculators took possession of his tract while he was visiting his tribe. However, citizens who appreciated the value of his services raised money to buy land on the Illinois river and gave the old chief a home for the rest of his days.

He died there July 17, 1889, and is buried in Morris, Ill.

"HELLO, MR. JONES, I'D LIKE TO HAVE IT RIGHT AWAY!"

"Hello Mr. Jones, this is Mrs. Smith. I want a box of crackers and a dime's worth of bacon, sliced thin, sent out immediately. I'm waiting on it. Thank you."

There is a click from the receiver being held to Grocer Jones' ear as an indication that the party at the other end of the line has rung off, he jangles the phone hook frantically in a futile effort to bring back within the sound of his voice the terse Mrs. Smith, and glances mournfully at the big clock over the cashier's desk. It is ten minutes of twelve.

"That's just the way it goes," says the minister of food in an aggrieved tone to the bunch of bananas, the sour pickle barrel and kitchen mops. "Waits until the last minute when all the wagons are out and it's time for some of us to go to lunch. Then wants us to send out something and has to have it in a hurry even if she does live at the end of the street. It beats me," and he makes a despairing gesture with the hand which has already lifted a box of crackers from the shelf.

Small Voice Distracts

"Please sir," says a small voice at Grocer Jones' elbow, causing him to start momentarily, and lay the box of crackers on the counter. "I'd like to get a lollypop."

A tiny girlish finger points eagerly through the glass of the show case and indicates the goal of her desire. It is handed her and the proffered penny taken from the little hand held strainingly upward.

"Yes sir, it simply beats me," begins Grocer Jones again in a confidential tone to the pickle barrel as he rings up the sale on his cash register. The barrel does not indicate as much as a ripple on the placid surface of its brine to indicate its surprise at being addressed as "sir."

The door opens to admit two customers and for awhile Mr. Jones is occupied busily at selecting fruits and vegetables and tying up parcels for his patrons. One customer displays a fastidiousness that again threatens the usual tranquility of Grocer Jones. She manifests decided concern over a near blemish in one of the peaches purchased and takes the god of tinned-and-package-goods-fresh-fruits and vegetables to task for his seeming lowering of the bars of excellence he has maintained in the past.

Is One Pick After Another

"Well ma'am, is Grocer Jones' version of the exigency, 'you see, that's just one that escaped my notice. It's a hard proposition to keep all these things in the best of shape. Every morning we pick over our fruits and vegetables, and throw away all that cannot be sold. There's a big loss to that, ma'am, that the public very often does not take into consideration."

"What's that? Yes, ma'am, there is a satisfaction in handling canned and package goods, and folks are beginning to buy that kind more. Ready cooked foods, too, are meeting with favor such as breakfast foods and the like. There is not so much profit in package goods as when they used to be sold from barrels, but on the other hand they're easier handled and so save time."

"Folks are showing a tendency toward creamery butter and lard compounds, too, it seems as though they are harder to carry home."

"Close on time? No, ma'am, we never do. There are always some of our customers who want things late and who have gotten into the habit of calling up for them at the last minute. You see, just a minute, ma'am, until I can answer the phone."

Comes A Voice Of Doom

Grocer Jones walks swiftly across the store, misgivings in his heart.

"Hello," he says with some trepidation. "Yes, ma'am, it's on the way. You see—but a click from the other end of the line indicates that he has no further audience."

Grocer Jones has lost his log-cabinousness. He rings up the purchase, hands the parcels to the waiting customer, and makes a notation on his cash book, he glances up as the delivery boy enters.

"So?" he says to the flour smeared lad. "Take these crackers to Mrs. Smith in West Vernon. Tell her that you've—that you've, oh tell her anything you please," and with another gesture of despair he consigns himself to the task of straightening up the show window which the cat has disordered in its morning frolics.

There seems to be some misunderstanding among some of the voters about the office I am running for. Some seem to think that I am again making the race for public weigher, as one of the candidates in that race bears the name of Bryant.

Please remember that this man's name is J. G. Bryant; that he is running for public weigher, and that my name is I. L. (Lee) Bryant and that I am running for the office of Tax Assessor.

A railroad strike ultimatum has been issued and there will be a general walk out on July 15 if the roads insist upon making the wage reductions granted by the United States Railway labor board. The coal strike that has threatened wholesale industrial paralysis will fade into insignificance when compared with the railway strike if the railroad boys quit.

OIL NEWS

Texas In Stump

According to a report issued by the United States Geological department, the production of petroleum through the country shows an increase of 1,838,000 barrels during May, but a reduction in the Texas output of 729,000 barrels places this state in third place. The production in Texas for May was 9,865,000 barrels against 10,588,000 barrels in April. The principal loss was in the central and northern fields, with a small gain being shown in the coastal fields.

Extends Pool

One core taken at a depth of 1920 feet from the top of the sand in the John O'Neil No. 3 Rio Bravo was sufficient to convince operators that an extension of a mile and a half will be made when the well is ready to be brought in. The sand shows up very much. This is the first extension of any distance in the west pool south of Electra. The Harvey-Cullum and Texas Company wells have been only offset distances apart and are on the southeast line of the section. The O'Neil well will probably be tested today. Much importance is attached to the well as it would mean more tests further west in event the well comes in as a good producer.

With twenty-seven locations within a radius of three miles the play at Dalton, near Mineral Wells, is good. This week's drilling report in the Dalton field shows a decided jump in the activities and real development of this newest Texas oil field.

Much Oil In Storage

It is estimated that around 15,000,000 barrels of crude oil are in storage in the Mexico field at the present time. The companies holding the largest stocks are the Sinclair interests, with about 3,100,000 barrels; the Humble company with about 3,000,000 barrels; the prairie company with more than 1,900,000 barrels, and the Magnolia Petroleum company with stocks around 1,680,000 barrels.

Cline Gets Well

Picking up the 1,500 foot South Electra sand, the Cline Oil Company's No. 1 Waggoner, Gibson survey south of the Planet Barrett lease has just completed a 75 barrel well according to reports from the field. The new well is about 2,000 feet south of production at this depth, but probably indicates another new pool in the semi-shallow sand, since it has skipped a few dry holes.

Indians Grow Richer

Osage Indians owning property in what is known as the west side of the Burbank pool, near Pawhuska, Okla., are $10,000,000 richer as a result of an auction sale of leases in the oil field. All records were broken by high bids on single tracts and the grand total. Exactly $10,887,050 was realized from the sale. Fifty-four west side leases brought $10,585,000 and the east side leases numbering 189 tracts sold for $302,950. One tract brought $1,585,000.

Resumes Drilling

The good showing made in the test well at Dimple, in Red River county, has caused the resumption of drilling by the Riggins Oil company at Annona and a derrick is being erected at Crystal Lake and one at Savannah. The Choctaw-Knight company test at Bagot has been shut down pending the renewal of leases.

Test At Knox City

Citizens at Knox City are behind a movement to procure a real test of the structure found in that vicinity. Actual drilling is expected to begin within a few days on the first test. The drilling will be under the supervision of Driller John Tidwell.

Another Wildcat

With drilling operations ready to start on the Gray county wildcat of Silk-Burlington-Clark, on the Medley ranch, early next week the citizens of Gray county are taking an active interest in oil developments. The test, which is southeast from the Carson county tests and the Gulf company's producer on the Burk Burnett, is said to be on a structure very similar to that of the proven territory.

Buck Creek Test

The Buck Creek oil well near Charleston is drawing the attention of some of the larger operators following a splendid showing of gas encountered several days ago. Drilling has been going up to permit the setting of another string of casing. Experienced oil men from Texas and Oklahoma fields declare they never saw better prospects for a week. The little city of Henry is making ready for a real oil boom. Property is already changing hands at good prices.

JULY 4TH EVER A MEMORABLE EVENT

INDEPENDENCE DAY IS CHERISHED BY ALL AMERICANS

It is fitting that all red blooded Americans should celebrate Independence Day, July 4th, not in that reckless and boisterous way but rather in a safe and sane manner, for it is a day dear to the hearts of American people. When July 4th rolls around we naturally turn our thoughts to that day in the long ago, July 4, 1776, when the colonies threw off the yoke of tyranny and "Old Glory" was unfurled over a new government through the signing of the declaration of independence. The memory of this eventful occasion will ever be cherished and Americans will go on celebrating Independence day so long as our government exists. The righteousness of that important act is emphasized by the rapid advancement made by the nation under the provisions of a constitution that guarantees the freedom of its people. The great world war has taught us that liberty is indeed a cherished inheritance and that a republic form of government is much to be desired. On this page will be found the advertisements of Vernon merchants who would help to make July 4th, 1922, a pleasant one.

"FAITH HEALING" CASTS ITS SPELL

EYES OF CRIPPLES TURNED TO- WARDS FAITH HEALING EVANGELIST.

The fame of Raymond T. Richey, "faith healing evangelist," who is conducting a revival meeting and healing campaign at Wichita Falls, is spreading far and wide and Vernon is not untouched by the spell that is cast over the community. People here have read the newspaper accounts and heard the story of this man's strange healing power as told first hand by men and women who have attended the meetings and they are becoming interested to a degree that numbers have signified their intention of making a visit to Wichita Falls for the purpose of attending the meeting to see what manner of man it is who performs miracles similar to those of olden times. It is claimed in published reports and by eye witnesses that cripples have thrown away their crutches and walked away claiming to have been healed through faith and prayer. Hearing of the man's great healing power hundreds of cripples, blind, insane and diseased have come from far and near to "touch his garment" as it were in order that they too may be healed. It is a pitiful sight to see that long tier of seats at the front of the theatre building in which the meetings are held, on which repose disease stricken persons—but it is more touching to witness the scenes enacted on the stage, where through faith and prayer, the cripple walk, move muscles that have been dormant for years or use lips, ears and eyes that have been idle for long years.

The vast crowds completely overran the Wichita theatre and on Wednesday night it was decided to transfer the meetings to the Palace theatre building in order to give more room for the anxious spectators and curious folks who were being attracted to the services. This building would only accommodate about 1,000 of the people who came to see the miracles performed. Every seat was occupied, the stage was filled to overflowing, the aisles were crowded and the doors and windows jammed with interested on-lookers, while hundreds of people literally blocked the sidewalks in front and alongside the building. The curiosity of those who had come to see miracles performed was appeased when three women, who had been brought to the building in ambulances and carried on to the stage on coats, arose from their beds and began to shout praises to the Master who had heard their prayers to be healed.

This climax of the meeting came after a sermon by the healing evangelist on the subject of Faith. The speaker characterized faith as merely trusting God and suggested that through faith one may be healed of disease just the same as he may be healed of sin through faith. The people present called it a miracle, while the believers called it "the wonderful handiwork of God," and wonderful it was with cripples, paralytic, lame, blind, deaf and diseased human beings, dwarfed into all the ignominious forms that affliction and suffering can shape them, began to leap about and shout their praises.

There were people present from Mineral Wells, Burkburnett, Vernon, Electric, Dallas and Gainesville.

TO WELCOME FARM BOYS

Texas A. & M. Prepares For Short Course Starting Next Monday

College Station, Texas, June 29.—A. & M. will welcome the farm boys of Texas into its portals on July 3 and during the four weeks following all its facilities for instruction in the many different phases of agriculture will be used in teaching the boys the elementary and practical things relating to farm life.

The short course has been provided to meet the needs of boys who have not had access to schools of sufficient grade to enable them to enter college courses. Members of the agricultural engineering faculty will impart to them the elementary knowledge required for the operation of farm tractors, gasoline engines and other kinds of farm machinery. The boys will be taken into the fields and shown practical demonstrations covering the important methods of tillage, use of fertilizers and manure, crop rotation and seed selection.

By a study of methods used in the dairy department they will learn something about judging, feeding, breeding, care and management of dairy cattle and the same methods relating to beef cattle and poultry will be studied. In fact all the important divisions of agriculture will be taken up by the boys.

Every boy between the ages of fourteen and eighteen is eligible for the short course. Although a special effort is being made by county agents to have club boys attend the course, it will not be restricted to the club members. It is for all Texas boys.

UNIVERSITY WANTS MEMORIAL

General Committee Working During Summer To Effect Goal in View

Austin, Texas, June 29.—In order to foster a campaign for a Memorial Union Building to be erected on the campus of the University of Texas, a general committee consisting of over one hundred students is working during the summer. There are about 5,000 ex-students in Texas, and it is the business of the committee to inform of the proposed building, and to obtain their advice and support. It will be necessary to raise one million dollars to erect a Union Building, according to the suggested plans, and since the state is pledged to support strictly the academic needs of the University, the only way that a building of this kind can be obtained is through public donations.

No campaign for contributions will be launched until next fall, and the Ex-students' Association will probably have charge of raising the money. O. C. Bullington of Wichita Falls is president of the Ex-students Association, and has offered to pledge the support of every living ex-student for the movement. The building is planned as a memorial to Texas men and women who served during the World War as an enduring monument to be of service to all citizens.

It will serve as a club for every student, as well as hotel accommodations for ex-students, quarters for the various organizations essential to University life and will be a working recreation center for school activities. Students and alumni of other colleges throughout the United States have recently built Union Buildings or have raised funds for that purpose. Campaigns are under way, and in several instances finished, for such buildings in Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Kansas, Purdue, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri and Nebraska.

Between Jan. 9th and May 5th, 1922 a Studebaker light six driving night and day in severe weather near Wichita, Kansas, traveled 24,525 miles, averaging 21.23 miles per gallon of gas and 1,054 miles per gallon of oil. Car in first class condition at completion of the test and entire repair bill totaled $24.90. 45-2tc

PERHAPS THAT'S ONE WAY TO COOL THEIR ARDOR

She was just a tiny little miss living in Odell, and the proposed march of the Ku Klux in her home community filled her with suppressed excitement. She was helping her mother about the kitchen the morning of the eventful day, and noticed her putting something in the ice box.

"What are those, mother? she inquired with childish curiosity.

"Cucumbers, dear," said her mother, turning again to her work.

The father of the little miss had scarcely set foot on the porch at noon, before his tiny daughter caught him gleefully by the hand.

"Daddy," she chortled, "do you know what we are going to have for dinner? It's Ku Klux, daddy. I saw mother put them in the ice box to get them cold."

Following a dinner of savants, a certain professor of psychology thought it would test a colored clerk attendant as to his memory. Although the professor pretended to have mislaid his check the boy without hesitation handed him the right hat.

"Then why do you give it to me?" "Cause you give it to me when you come in, sah."

ONE TOURIST DECLARES HE WON'T SPEND ANOTHER CENT HERE

"I won't spend another cent in Vernon. Any town that does not provide a camping ground for tourists passing through it doesn't get any of my money."

The sentiment was one expressed to Ernest Hampton, Vernon automobile dealer, by a Texas tourist sojourning in New Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Hampton returned to this city Thursday after a ten days visit at Eagle Nest and Cimarron Canyon, New Mexico.

Expressions of this sort, Mr. Hampton declares, were common among travelers he met while on his vacation and signified strikingly the importance attached to conveniences of this sort by those who seek recreation in their motor cars. Towns well equipped with camping grounds, he points out, were frequently lauded by the tourists and those lacking in this respect were severely censured.

Roads Westward Good

Roads from Vernon westward are fairly good until the traveler reaches Amarillo. Mr. Hampton, said, and from that city they show improvement until Des Moines, New Mexico, is reached where the highway, becomes a gravel pike. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Lundy and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson, who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Hampton, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Crutcher Cole, who joined the party later, are still enjoying a vacation in the mountains.

LOCAL FIDDLERS RECEIVE RECOGNITION FROM PRESS

"The News-Leader" of Richmond, Virginia, issue of June 21 displays a cut of A. C. (Eck) Robinson of Vernon and Harry C. Gilliland of Altus, Okla., who attended the Confederate reunion in Richmond last week. Mr. Gilliland is a civil war veteran of the Southern forces and Mr. Robinson is the son of a veteran. Both in company with Dr. A. P. Howard of Vernon "fiddled" for the governor of Tennessee at the governor's mansion during the reunion held in Chattanooga last year.

This year Mr. Gilliland and Mr. Robinson were photographed as they played "break down" tunes and turned the lobby of the Hotel Jefferson into a "harn dance." Mr. Robinson, who wins first prize wherever he plays "Sally Gooden," issued a challenge to the News-Leader to the effect that he has no rivals. The stately dames and old southern gentlemen in the snap shot with Messrs. Robinson and Gilliland appear to have forgotten their dignity and are indulging in a "back swing" dance to the delight of the audience and their own enjoyment.

The Vernon Grocery Company has purchased the Hill Grocery at Electra and will confine the business at that place. John D. R. Coe of Vernon later, will assume the management of the store at once.

"DRY" HOLE NOW PRODUCER

C. A. Allingham Enjoys Unexpected Profits From Faria in South Electra Field

C. A. Allingham, well known resident and now living on W. Yamparika street is the possessor of an interest in a 200 barrel oil well recently brought in on his farm in the south Electra field. The producer represents a hole abandoned in July, 1918 when the Fowler well at Barkburnett concentrated the attention of oil operators on the latter field.

The new well was put down by the Herford Oil Company, which earlier carried the hole down 1,813 feet. When interest recently was centered in the south Electra field, the concern decided to clean out the abandoned hole and recommence operations.

Eleven feet further the present producing strata was encountered. The company is now engaged in sinking additional tests in the territory.

J. V. Owen has returned from a two weeks' business trip through Jack, Young, and adjoining counties and reports a successful trip. Crops in this section are in a splendid condition and the boll weevil has not yet made its appearance, according to Mr. Owen.

You have an erroneous conception of the function of the Art," said a critic in a gallery where the works of the latest vanguard of "Independents" were being exhibited. "That painting isn't intended to be a picture of anything. It's merely the interpretation of the artist's state of mind when he painted it."

"I see," replied the Philistine, "but if he has that sort of a mind, why does he want to advertise it?"
